

Betty Lou Goldsmith Wilson was born February 2, 1935 on Ground Hog's Day to Everett and Ruth (Clark) Goldsmith at home southeast of Fairview, Montana. She only weighed 4-1/2 pounds at birth, and slept in a dresser drawer.

Betty went to grade school in Ridgelawn and Crane, and then graduated from Sidney in 1953. After graduation Betty worked at the Co-op Café, babysat for her sister, and then worked at the Snowflake Bakery.

On December 27, 1967 she married LaVern Wilson, and became a housewife on the farm they shared west of Crane.

In 1982 they moved to Clarksville, TN, and lived there awhile. They moved back to Montana and went to work at the Waters Ranch in Richey, MT. Because of health problems, she moved back to Fairview, Montana. In 2006 Betty moved to Crestwood and lived there for 10 years, and then due to declining health she moved to Extended Care in 2016.

Betty loved to play Bingo, crochet, color, draw, do word puzzles, cook, bake, do crafts, and attend class reunion lunches once a month. She will be greatly missed by many.
